REGULATIONS OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

School Admission

No child will be admitted to the first grade who has not attained the age of five years on the date of opening school in September. Pupils are admitted to this grade only at the beginning of the school year, unless they have been in attendance at some other school. The age of compulsory attendance is eight years, so that any child whose eighth birthday falls between the opening and closing of the school year must enter at the beginning of the school year. On the other hand, any child not included in the above statement, attending school between the ages of five and eight years, must be in regular attendance; otherwise he may be dismissed from school for the remainder of the school year at the discretion of the Superintendent.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board of Freedom:

Gentlemen: Your Superintendent has the honor to submit the following report for your consideration.

The New Educational Law of 1919 stipulated that the school board of every district should provide standard elementary schools for at least thirty-six weeks in each year at such places in the district as might best serve the interests of education and give to all pupils within the district as nearly equal advantages as practicable. The State Board of Education was given authority, upon petition of any school board, to shorten the school year in any town, if exceptional conditions seemed to warrant it.

Such conditions arose at Freedom last year on account of the severity of the winter, and the prevalence of sickness during the winter term. Consequently a petition to allow the Village and Swett Hill Schools to close at the end of thirty-four weeks was addressed to the State Board of Education, and permission was granted. The Chase School completed its thirty-six weeks. From all indications there will be no difficulty in maintaining the schools for the full amount of time this year.

At the beginning of the present school year, because there were but two children of school age in the neighborhood of the Swett Hill School, it seemed reasonable to close it and make arrangements for those children to attend the Village School. The New School Law makes it possible for a school board, when it is difficult to arrange for transportation, to board pupils in a suitable home near the school to which they are assigned. Under this provision a boarding place for these two children was provided at Alonzo Durgin's. The pupils from Young's Hill, who last year were carried to the Swett Hill School, are being transported to the Village, the cost of conveyance being the same to either place. The Chase School opened in September with an enrollment of seven pupils. By Thanksgiving time the number of pupils had decreased to five, and inasmuch as that was the end of the period for which Miss Hunter, the teacher of the school, had been engaged, it was decided to convey them to the village. Transportation arrangements were made with Lewis G. Burnham and the children of that district have been attending the Village School since that time.

The whole question of transportation is a serious one. No rigid set of rules can be laid down governing it. The law states that all pupils living over two miles from the school to which they are assigned must be transported. It would be necessary to run at least six schools in Freedom to do away with the problem of transportation altogether, and the expense that would necessitate, both in maintaining the schools and putting the schoolhouses into proper condition, would be prohibitive. Obviously, a school could not be maintained for three or four pupils, but the question of whether or not it should be maintained for six or eight depends on conditions. As a plain business proposition, if suitable transportation can be furnished for a cost less than that of maintaining the school, it would seem wise to adopt it. But on the other hand, the age of the pupils, the length of the drive, and the character of the route, should all be taken into consideration. With all these factors in mind, I believe that the School Board acted wisely in closing the Swett Hill and Chase Schools. From an educational point of view there is a distinct advantage under the present arrangement, as a business proposition it is beyond dispute, and from the standpoint of the pupils conveyed, I think there is no hardship.

Early in my work as your Superintendent I recognized the lack of suitable text books as one of the greatest handicaps to the efficient work of the schools. Not only were many of the books of old date, but the supply was limited. This condition is improved, and some excellent books have been purchased to the extent that State Aid has allowed money for that purpose. None of the schools has been equipped with wall-maps, and it is my suggestion that enough money be appropriated at the coming annual meeting to purchase a case of maps for the Village School. History and geography cannot be well taught without them.

The per cent. of attendance of the Freedom Schools last year was lower than that of any other town in the district and 6% lower than the average for the whole State. Part of this was due to the sickness during the winter, but part was also due to the negligence of parents. The names of but three pupils—all from the Chase district—appear upon the Roll of Honor list, and this compares with twenty-five for Effingham and seventy-four for Ossipee during the same period. Obviously, this is a matter of concern for all tax-payers. A child's absence from school not only retards his own progress but that of the whole class and school. The attendance law states that every child of school age shall attend school every day the school is in session unless excused by the school board because his physical or mental condition prevents his attendance.

But as the administration of the law should be just and reasonable, in cases of illness and emergency the parent's right to keep the child at home for a few days will not be questioned. On the other hand, parents sometimes refuse to send their children to school on account of hostility to the teacher or because certain conditions about the school do not satisfy them. No such reason can be accepted as valid, because the parent in that case is given by law the privilege of complaining to the Commissioner of Education, who will consider the case and grant relief if the complaint is just. The power and responsibility of enforcing school attendance rests with the school board, and cases of marked negligence should be prosecuted.

In general the progress of our schools last year was fairly satisfactory. Excepting at the Chase School, the teachers engaged in September were able to continue their work through the year. It is very advantageous to keep a good teacher in the same school for a period of years. For this reason, it was with regret that several resignations were received at the close of the year. I am confident that this year will prove a successful one. The work is going along favorably now. Mrs. Jones and Mr. Bennett are well suited to their duties, and the spirit with which they carry on their work is commendable.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD C. WINGATE,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

The physical examination of the scholars reveals many defects in eyes and ears as well as disease of teeth, tonsils and throat.

Parents and guardians should realize that these defects and diseases interfere with the child's physical and intellectual development, and to see to it that they are remedied as early as possible. A pupil hampered in these ways can not successfully compete with classmates who are well and strong.
